CUMULATIVE INDEXES

Cumulative indexes are available for Physics Abstracts, Electrical & Electronics Abstracts and Computer & Control Abstracts, for both authors and subjects. These cumulations generally cover a period of four years, with the exception of Computer & Control Abstracts where the initial volume covered the period 1966–68. The table below shows the prices and periods for the two types of cumulative index.

OTHER INSPEC SERVICES

SDI

(Selective Dissemination of Information.) This is a service individually tailored to the requirements and interests of the engineer or research worker. Details of information relevant to the interest profile of the individual subscriber are selected from the data being processed for the INSPEC Database. Information is dispatched weekly on 150 mm, 100 mm (6″, 4″) cards.

TOPICS

This is an SDI service based on standard profiles. There are over 90 subjects covering high-activity areas of research and development. This is an inexpensive card service designed to alert engineers and researchers to the availability of literature within their subject area.

MAGNETIC TAPES

Tapes containing all the information included in the INSPEC publications are issued twice monthly. They enable the larger research and development organisations to produce their own internal information and current-awareness services.
